

Hardiker Sauvignon Blanc 2006

Description

We bought some excellent fruit from Upper Pakenham and made the two along side each other- with exactly the same treatment producing a unique cousin to the Cannibal Creek, under our second 'Hardiker' label.

Reviews

'...top end Australian sauvignon blanc is in Victoria and Tasmania. Cannibal Creek, a small vineyard in Gippsland, Victoria, releases a tightly focussed, austere and chalky wine that bursts with pristine herbal, floral aromas and vibrant gooseberry and citrus fruit. It's bony mouthfeel more resembles a high-level Pouilly-Fume (from France's Loire Valley, the home of varietal sauvignon blanc) than an Australian wine'
